The Arizona State University Critical Languages Institute is accepting applications for its 2016 summer language programs in the U.S. and abroad. CLI offers intensive courses in Polish, as well as many other East European, Mediterranean, Central Asian, and Southeast Asian languages.

Students selected for CLI pay a flat fee of $1200 for up to 13 semester credits, plus study-abroad fees if they join an overseas program.

Undergraduate and graduate funding is available. CLI also offers scholarships to professionals and non-students. ROTC Project GO funding is available for selected languages.

Admission is competitive. Fellowships and early admission deadline is January 29, 2016. Apply at <http://cli.asu.edu>
